CHARITIES IN ZIMBABWE

Comprehensive Directory of Charities, NGO's and Community Initiatives

Introduction

Welcome to Charities in Zimbabwe.

This publication lists charities and support initiatives that are active and operate in Zimbabwe, including information about what they do and how you can get in touch with them.

There are so many generous and compassionate organizations that are helping to keep Zimbabwe going, and they do this through the generous support of people from all around the world.

In a country with such a desperate financial situation for such an extended period of time, it is no wonder these organizations and initiatives are one of the main reasons there is still life to be had by many of the people in Zimbabwe.

Not only are the people supported, but the animals and the environment have many initiatives to support them as well.

With so many initiatives working at sustaining Zimbabwe, it can only help to increase awareness of them and hopefully help them to get much needed support, and that is where this publication comes in.

We are working at gathering as much information as we can about these organizations, and then compiling it into publications and creating flyers to share online, all in an effort to help them receive support so they in turn can continue to support the people, animals and environment in Zimbabwe.

Many of them have a variety of ways in which they can be assisted, and by visiting their online profiles, or getting in touch with them directly you will be able to work with any that interest you.

If you know of any that are not listed, please let us know so we can get in touch with them.

Having an interest in how you could do your part for our beloved country I found it difficult to know how and where to start, so I have dedicated some time to compile this document in hope it will reach people who have an equal interest in assisting organisations that have fought many battles over the last years.

No amount or item is too small..

AREAS OF FOCUS

Charity Support

Give more than a thought

C4C is dedicated to assisting legitimate and worthy causes or charities with raising funds for either running expenses or for a specific project.

C4C adopts the ever growing marketing and fundraising tool of Cause Related Marketing, where a company establishes a long or medium term partnership with a charitable organization or community cause for mutual benefit.

It's our job to identify worthy causes and attach them to a corporate sponsor, who will sponsor a mass fundraising effort for the charity or cause.

It's a win win strategy:

- The cause benefits from having a professionally organized international fund raising effort maximizing their donation opportunities.
- The corporate benefits from the good publicity they receive by meeting their corporate responsibility, increasing market potential with minimum effort on their part.

AREAS OF FOCUS

Youth Education

The organisation as a registered entity was initiated year beginning 2016, by a group of 3 post high school students who, whilst waiting to further their studies, were volunteering at an orphanage in the Bulawayo, Zimbabwe area, and felt a need regardless of larger existing organisations, to care for the underprivileged children in the home and others in similar or even more unfortunate conditions. As the outreach visits to the orphanage became more frequent, our numbers began to increase as well-wishers heard of the work we were doing. Eventually, volunteers began working together in a structured group with different individuals, some of whom were distinctly leaders and others administrators. Hence in this manner was the organisation birthed to glorify the Lord through service.

The Do it for the Kids Organisation shall exist to both educate and garner support from the Zimbabwean community and the world at large on issues and needs relating to the condition of underprivileged children around the country, and specifically relating these issues to the work of raising the brand of philanthropy and more importantly service for the glory of God.

AREAS OF FOCUS

Support for young women

We're a social club for Zimbabwean women of all ages to come together and improve the communities that they live in. We are a sisterhood and a platform for you to find friends, opportunities and do charity work.

Girl Grandeur Zimbabwe was founded in 2013 as a social club for girls and women in hopes that it would address the lack of an informal club for women to just come together and have fun and build friendships.

This club was to help women to share their experiences and advise each other on their respective grievances. It then developed and women started to share opportunities amongst each other which led to their ultimate development.

There had been a low turn-out rate for women's opportunities in the country due to faulty mobilization and technology has allowed for mobilization and the raising of awareness to be more effective and thus women are benefiting from opportunities that are presented to them.

Girl Grandeur Zimbabwe informs policymakers about girls' needs locally and nationally. The organization educates the media about critical issues facing girls. The founders were concerned about the unique issues that were plaguing young girls in this digital era and they realized that these were different from the conventional issues that are addressed by NGOs and women's organizations.

They felt that young girls needed a recreational space that would be fun and beneficial at the same time. The founders attributed the prevalent drug and substance abuse, high teenage pregnancy rates and declining national pass rate to the lack of youth centres, clubs and recreational centres where girls could spend time. These dedicated women knew that these girls just needed some guidance from mentors to reach their goals.

As the virtual club grew, in 2015 GGZ decided to register as an official club under the Zimbabwe Youth Council to fully support the members. The organization continues to grow and is currently fundraising to procure a physical property which will act as a hub for women and girls.

The initial objectives were to provide direct home-based palliative care to those with a life threatening illness and their families and a comprehensive bereavement service.

In 2014, Island Hospice Service Zimbabwe, changed its name to Island Hospice and Healthcare to better communicate the expansion of its services within its holistic approach to palliative care developed over the last three decades.

The organization has managed to build a network of partners and services that reach vulnerable groups in society which include displaced peoples, orphans and other vulnerable children, young care-givers, widows and widowers, senior citizens and marginalized communities. Our services have expanded to include not only direct palliative care and bereavement counselling but also community health care initiatives, capacity building and training for healthcare professionals.

Miracle Missions Trust is a non-profit organisation whose primary function is Nation Building. We identify critical community needs in vulnerable communities and then identify people, organizations and resources capable of meeting that need. Through networking and relationships, we identify who does what best, connect these people and organizations, and then co-ordinate all efforts to meet the need. Believing that the key to the future lies in moving away from donor dependency and towards self-empowerment, we have adopted a smart-aid approach. This has allowed us to use our network of contacts to accurately identify genuine community needs and community-based projects, which have longevity potential. By assessing operating barriers, communication mechanisms and feedback processes, within and between communities, we work with skilled partners to provide Emergency and Developmental Relief.

Wildlife Conservation

First proposed as a protected green-belt area in 1910, those championing the idea of these Woodlands fought an uphill battle against suburban development in the area right through to 1979, when the Mukuvisi Woodlands Association was created, and in 1980, an official lease agreement, running until 2090, was signed between this Association and Harare Municipality.

Objectives of the Mukuvisi Woodlands Association were first defined as:

To conserve and utilise the Mukuvisi Woodlands;
To provide and develop facilities for education in the principles and practice of nature conservation, environmental studies and research;

To encourage the public to appreciate the natural environment.

Mukuvisi Woodlands has succeeded very well in all of these, and continues to succeed, particularly in the area of Conservation Education. Our flagship Eco-Schools Programme is helping to create a new generation of environmentally aware, dedicated children, who understand today's burning conservation challenges and issues.

Animal Conservation

How are we trying to do this?

We have put together a conservation model that will really work in the long term, and make a significant difference to the painted dog population in Zimbabwe. We employ more than 60 people from the local villages to run our conservation programs and run our education and outreach programs.

These efforts span everything from our Anti-Poaching Unit team which patrol local areas daily to provide a direct form of protection for the dogs, we run our Rehabilitation Facility where we treat injured and orphaned dogs before returning them to the wild.

We monitor more than 6 packs of painted dogs on a daily basis across Hwange National Park and 4 packs in Mana Pools and the Mid-Zambezi.

In addition to helping painted dog populations, we want to help human ones, too.

Our education and outreach programs prioritise community spirit. We have established projects and programs that directly help improve the lives of local residents. To this end we've set up a Children's Bush camp, a Visitors Centre, collaborative art projects, conservation clubs, community gardens, and more.

Our mission is to create an environment where painted dogs can thrive.

Child Health

The Rainbow Children's Village seeks to address these challenges by providing a restorative home where the patients can recover, be monitored and recuperate from treatment.

Childhood cancer patient numbers are on the rise with an extremely high mortality rate of approximately 75%. Registered number of childhood cancer in the latest 2015 Zimbabwe National Cancer Registry was 250.

However these figures are not a true reflection of the reality on the ground. Correct and up to date data is 'work in progress'.

These staggering figures are due to a myriad of reasons including late detection and diagnosis, an insufficient government healthcare delivery system with ill-equipped health centers, insufficient trained staff in oncology, a limited number of operational cancer treatment centers (currently only one based in Harare that dispenses chemotherapy), inconsistent supply of drugs and a harsh economic environment.

Children from disadvantaged backgrounds in general and in particular those living in the outer areas of Harare and rural areas of Zimbabwe are particularly at risk of becoming a mortality statistic.

The Harare SPCA is a registered, non-profit organisation (PVO 83/67).

We act as the Official Municipal Pound but do not receive any government or municipal funding.

Funding to keep the Society going is reliant on the good will and support of concerned Corporate entities, Individuals and Fund Raising efforts.

There have been many improvements made to The Harare Spca's facilities in 2017. The leaky roof has been repaired and repainted. The exterior wall and the consultation rooms have been painted very kindly by Dulux. A brand new exercise and environmental enrichment area has been sponsored and built by the incredible group of volunteer dog walkers. A vehicle has been bought and kitted out with heavy duty cages in the back to ensure the inspectors can transport any kind of dog or cat safely.

The hospital wards are currently being refurbished too. Projects in line for 2018 are to refurbish the theatre and prep room as well as repairing and painting the ceilings.

The Harare SPCA operates from two premises: the Clinic and the Re-homing Kennels.

Harare SPCA is the first "Go To" place people will consult when their pet is missing – either to report or to search for.

Our role is to provide safe sanctuary and care for animals in and around Harare and at the same time endeavour to educate the populace about animal care to prevent ill treatment and cruelty to animals and promote sterilisation. We cover the whole of the Greater Harare area which includes all high density areas and Ruwa. No animal in need is ever turned away from our doors.

The Michael Project is working with communities in Zimbabwe to reach children at risk. By coming alongside families we help them to protect and care for orphans and vulnerable children, and by mobilizing a community-based response to needs like parenting, education and healthcare, we provide immediate and sustainable assistance.

We tackle issues such as malnutrition and education through our children's home, pre-schools, community visits and activity clubs where these children are fed, learn essential life skills, have fun and are free, many for the first time, to just be children. We also raise awareness of the needs of vulnerable children, and advocate for fostering and adoption through seminars and workshops.

The money raised by the Zimbabwe Aid Fund (ZAF) is used to fund the purchase of food for the pensioners. The Committee will also look to contribute funds to all worthwhile priority projects for the pensioners including equipment and medicines. ### Pensioner Support

The Zimbabwe Pensioners Supporter Fund is a registered Section 21 Non Profit Organization that supplies food to about 1050 pensioners in Zimbabwe.

Hannes Botha established the Zimbabwe Pensioner Support Fund 20 years ago. The purpose of the fund is to supply pensioners in Zimbabwe Old Age Homes with food, medicines and clothing. The Zimbabwe Pensioners Support Fund supplies hampers every 6 weeks to about 1050 pensioners in the following towns and cities: Masvingo, Chivu, Kadoma, Kwe Kwe, Gweru, Shurugwi, Zvishavane, Esigodini, Red Cliff, Chinoyi, Kariba, Karoi, Bindura, Chighutu, Marondera, Mutare, and Bulawayo.

Every 6 weeks or so between 15 & 17 tons of food is transported and distributed to 26 homes / organizations. Basic medicine and walking aids are also supplied to the pensioners. The supply trip lasts 8 – 10 days and a distance of 2800 kilometres will be travelled by the truck using more than 1200 litres of fuel.

The value of the food and the cost of delivering it to the pensioners in Zimbabwe exceeds R550 000 per trip. 22 tons of food is distributed to the pensioners.

The ZPSF relies entirely on donations to carry out this mission. All donations made to the ZPSF can be claimed back from SARS.

The situation for the pensioners in Zimbabwe has reached crisis point. The inflation rate “peaked” at 231 MILLION % this has many of the pensioners destitute where some of them can't even buy a loaf of bread. There have been reports of pensioners eating pets' mince and I know of two cases where pensioners have simply decided there was no point in living any longer and committed suicide. Most of these pensioners paid into pension funds for years only to find hyperinflation has made it worthless.

The Zimbabwe Pensioners Support Fund is funded solely by members of the public and companies who are concerned about the welfare of the Pensioners in Zimbabwe. The hampers handed to the pensioners' serve two purposes:

They receive much needed FOOD and MEDICINE
They know that someone CARES about them

How to register an NGO in Zimbabwe

There are three options available to register an NGO in Zimbabwe. A non-governmental organization is a non-profit and voluntary organization. Usually, it is organized by earnest people with a common interest on a local, national or international level. An NGO principally does charitable activities, thus, bringing concerns to governments, whilst also pushing for and monitoring policies. As a result, this encourages political participation through the distribution of factual information to all citizens. Below are stages on how to register an NGO in Zimbabwe:

1. Register your NGO: Choose from 3 options
In Zimbabwe, NGOs can only be instituted under three options. These are; registration under a trust deed, as a Private Voluntary Organization (PVO) and under common law universitas. These ensure that all NGOs operate under their lawful obligations.

a) Register an NGO as a Trust

Trusts are regulated under the Deeds Registries Act, which allows the Registrar of Deeds to register notarial deeds in donation or in trust. Trusts typically have unlimited objectives which are often intended to benefit an identifiable constituency.

- A trust can be established for private benefit or for a charitable purpose. The trust deed will show whether a trust has been established for charitable purposes. A trust does not have separate legal personality, though it may enter into contracts in its own name if the trust deed so allows.

- This form of registration requires the services of a registered Notary Public unlike with registering an NGO under the PVO Act. A Notary Public is required for the drafting and preparing of the trust deed and other necessary documentation. In addition, the Notary Public will register the deed with the Registrar of deeds in the Deeds office.

i) Requirements of registering a Trust

- Trust name.
- Trust objectives.
- Trust general address.
- Beneficiaries of the trust.
- Details of between 1 to 4 founders (full names.i.d numbers and dates of births).
- Details of at least 4 trustees (full names.i.d numbers and dates of births).

- Registration fee.

- Trustees must maintain up-to-date records of information relating to the identities and addresses of the parties to the trust, as well as information on every financial institution and every designated non-financial business or profession which is a service provider to the trust.

- Trustees must notify the Registrar of Deeds of any changes to the particulars of directors or trustees, in writing within one month after the change has occurred.

ii) Disadvantages of a Trust

- This form of registration is expensive because of the legal fees and costs required by the Notary Public to prepare the deed.

b) Register an NGO as a Private Voluntary Organization

NGOs in Zimbabwe are mainly registered under the Private Voluntary Organization Act (PVO Act). Registration is done through the Department of Social Welfare under the Ministry of Public Service Labour and Social Welfare. Primarily, a PVO is defined as “anybody or association of persons, corporate or unincorporate, or any institution that seeks to promote the social welfare of people.

i) Functions of a PVO

- The provision of all or any of the material, mental, physical or social needs of persons or families
- The rendering of charity to persons or families in distress
- The prevention of social distress or destitution of persons or families
- The provision of assistance in, or promotion of, activities aimed at uplifting the standard of living of persons or families
- The provision of funds for legal aid
- The prevention of cruelty to, or the promotion of the welfare of, animals

- Such other objects as may be prescribed
  - The collection of contributions for any of the foregoing.
- ii) Requirements of registering a PVO
- N.B Any organization that is seeking to carry out work as defined under section 2 of the PVO Act must be registered. Applications to the Registrar of PVOs can be lodged through the District and Provincial Labour and Social Services Offices. In terms of section 9 of the PVO Act, the Secretary of the organization needing to be registered under the Act should submit the following:
- Registration form/Application for registration – The PVO registration form for NGOs may be purchased at the Ministry of Labour and Social Services Department in Harare or at the District/Provincial offices of the same ministry outside of Harare.
  - The name of NGO
  - The objectives of the NGO
  - The first members of the Executive Council or Executive Board (there should be between two and twenty persons as members).
  - CVs of key board members
  - Particulars of Directors and Secretary (which include their names; nationalities; usual residential addresses; business occupation)
  - Name and address of Auditor. (If you don't have an Auditor the Registrar will provide you with one upon approval of your application)
  - Address and P. O. Box of registered office
  - An Interpol or local police clearance certificate for the country representative if it is a foreign NGO
  - Principal place of business
  - The organization's constitution
  - Proof of public notice in national papers.
- N.B. Such a notification is at the expense of the Applicant. The notice should state the proposed name of the private voluntary organization and the purpose, aim and mandate of the PVO. The notice should be published in a newspaper circulating in the area concerned.
- iii) Registration procedure
- Upon submission of the above documents any person may within the prescribed time period to lodge with the Registrar an objection to the grant of the application setting out the grounds on which such objection is made.

- Public notice in newspapers – the aim of the newspaper notice is to call for persons with objections to lodge them with the Registrar of PVOs within the prescribed time limit (within 21 days of the date of publication).
  - The Registrar shall submit any such objection to the PVO Board for consideration.
  - If all documents are in order the Registrar will submit them to the PVO Board which will determine whether the application is rejected or accepted for registration.
  - The registration process can take 3 months to a year. NB: Foreign organizations that seek to carry out work in Zimbabwe, and in particular work of a humanitarian nature or whose objectives are covered under the PVO Act, are required to register as such. Most international organizations operate as PVOs and are supposed to have a direct memorandum of understanding or cooperation with the Government.
- iv) Disadvantages of a PVO
- Too much government interference. If the Minister believes that a PVO has failed to comply with its objectives or constitution, has been subject to maladministration, or has engaged in illegal activities, or that “it is necessary or desirable to do so in the public interest,” or any other ground in terms of Section 21 of the Act, the Minister through notice in a government gazette may suspend all or any of the members of the Executive Committee of the PVO. The Minister may also amend or revoke any suspension.
  - The Minister is authorized in terms of section 20 to send inspectors at any time to examine the accounts and any documents of any PVO. Once a notice has been delivered to the PVO, the PVO is expected to comply by providing all required information. The documents that are effectively seized by virtue of the notice can be kept for a “reasonable period.”

c) Register an NGO under Common Law Universitas

These are a product of the common law and are not regulated by statute. Basically, it exists when there is an entity which has a constitution and members that agree to achieve a common objective out of activities that are entirely for the benefit of its members.

In truth, this is the easiest way of forming an institution. It generally happens when two or three partners come together and make an understanding through an agreed constitution. Likewise, the constitution should have established objectives and strategies. In fact, it is an easy option although few NGOs operate under this form of establishment.

- A Common Law board can be viewed as a common law persona; this form was recognized by the Zimbabwean Supreme Court in Zimbabwe Lawyers for Human Rights. Next, such an entity is excluded from registering under the PVO Act and is therefore not viewed as a PVO. However, it is a legal corporate entity.

N.B: Although one is not officially registered, it is lawfully acceptable in Zimbabwe to operate under that body. For instance, the Catholic Commission for Peace and Justice has been operating without official registration.

2. Register with the Zimbabwe Revenue Authority (ZIMRA)

Register with ZIMRA for purposes of paying (PAYE) employee tax on behalf of your employees.

3. Register with National Social Security Authority (NSSA)

NSSA registration allows the organisation to register its workers for social security including pensions and workers compensation insurance.

4. Register with National Employment Council (NEC)

NEC registration for improved work relations. There is an NEC for every industry, NGOs fall under the NEC for Welfare & Educational Institutions.
